75 MILLION DRIVE TO OPEN HERE WITH WORKERS' BANQUET

Church Directors of the Thirty Baptist Churches in Bracken Association to Banquet Here Tuesday—Prominent Speakers on Big Program.

The Baptists of the Southern Baptist Convention will raise seventy-five million dollars for missions and benevolences and the campaign starts in the near future.

Several weeks ago the State Directors for the various Southern States met in Nashville, Tenn., where they were banqueted and plans were made for the big drive. Two weeks ago the Association directors of Kentucky met at a banquet in Louisville and on next Tuesday the church directors of the Bracken Association will meet in this city to banquet and talk over plans for this association, whose apportionment is $62,000.

Mr. C. S. Kirk, of Maysville, is director for the Bracken Association and he has planned quite a banquet for the church directors at the local Baptist church next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Following the banquet at 8 o'clock the meeting will be thrown open to the public and every one is invited to hear two of the best speakers of the Baptist Association in the state of Kentucky. One of these speakers is Dr. John W. Porter, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lexington, and former local pastor, and the other is Prof. John L. Hill, Dean of Georgetown College, who is State Director for the state of Kentucky in the Seventy-Five Million Campaign.

At a later date a banquet and get-together meeting for all of the local church workers will be held in this city.

CALL TO BEDSIDE OF NIECE

Mrs. Ella M. Allen and Mrs. Joseph Walton of East Second street, were notified last week by telegram, that their niece, Miss Elizabeth Gibbons, of Los Angeles, Cal., was dangerously ill and requested that they come at once. Mrs. Walton left immediately for the West. Word received here yesterday from Mrs. Walton states that her safe arrival in Los Angeles and her niece was very much improved.

Mr. William Eyer, editor of the Georgetown, Ohio, News-Democrat, was here Tuesday with his family to attend the big circus and while in Maysville he paid the Ledger a very pleasant visit.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE ON OIL RIGGING ASKED IN SUIT

Suit Brought in the Mason Circuit Court Asking That Mortgage on Oil Drilling Machinery Now in Use, Be Foreclosed.

The Star Drilling Machine Company brought suit in the Mason Circuit Court Tuesday against the Rita Oil Company, Belle Hendrickson, The Cabin Creek Oil and Gas Company and others asking for a foreclosure of a mortgage on certain oil well drilling machinery now being used on the Hendrickson farm near Ribolt, Lewis county, by the Cabin Creek Oil and Gas Company.

The Star Drilling Machine Company sold a drilling outfit to the Rita Oil Company which was sold on notes secured by mortgage and in their petition, they state that only a part of the purchase price for the machinery has been paid. The balance due is $1800 due in $300 notes. They state in the petition that the Rita Oil Company sold to Nellie McKeown, subject to the mortgage, the outfit and that in turn she rented the machinery to the Cabin Creek Oil and Gas Company which is now using the same on the farm of Belle Hendrickson near Ribolt.

The foreclosure of this mortgage will greatly interfere with the oil developments planned by the Cabin Creek Oil and Gas Company in Lewis county in the immediate future.

ARTILLERYMEN COMING HERE NEXT WEEK

One of the officers of the platoon of artillerymen from Camp Knox now traveling through this section of the state, was in Maysville Monday making arrangements for the appearance of the platoon in Maysville. Because of a stop in Carlisle the soldiers have been detained and they will not be here until Monday of next week or probably Sunday afternoon, coming direct here from Germantown. They will spend two or three days in this city.

DIED AT RUSSELL; BURIED HERE TODAY

Mrs. Emma Jane Huron, former citizen of Maysville, aged 65 years, died Sunday at the home of her daughter in Russell, Ky. The remains were brought here Monday afternoon and burial was made in the Maysville cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. F. Browning and son, Eugene, of Flemingsburg, spent the day here guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Browning in East Second street.

JOHN ROBINSON GIVES SPLENDID PERFORMANCE AT INFIRMARY

Big Test of Circus Filled to Capacity at Matinee—Another Show Tonight at Eight O'clock.

Today was circus day in Maysville. John Robinson the greatest of them all on this visit brought forth the largest crowd that has visited Maysville for many years. Aboard three special trains the circus arrived in Maysville at seven o'clock and hundreds flocked to the yards to witness the unloading of the ponderous baggage wagons and animals.

At the afternoon performance the seats under the big top were taxed to capacity by the usual throng that always is attracted by the most famous and oldest circus in the country, and in many ways the best. There were of course first and most important, the kiddies. Wide eyed and in ecstasy, they sat glued to their seats, fearful of missing some of the marvels of the dozen or more acts which were constantly being performed in the rings and on the stage, or upon the hippodrome track.

What a delight it all was with her pretty ladies who hung from the very top of the great tent by their teeth, or swung breath-takingly by their dainty toes from the swaying trapeze. And every eye was fascinated by the sleek, dashing horses with their reckless riders careless of bridle or other safeguard. And how every sense of humor was tickled by the clowns, clowns in kilts, clowns in patches, clowns in the "latest things from Paris." It was indeed a great "delicious show" with every moment crammed with wonders and joys, for was ever anything saw before like the Nelson family. Eight charming girls in natty red and black suits, ranging in age from eight to eighteen, or did any one ever see the like of the Chinaman in green satin, who drove as carelessly as though he was taking a dip in the surf, through three rows of gleaming knives. Or the fetching brunette who sold two hundred feet from high in the air, suspended by her hair.

Long after the John Robinson circus has folded its tents and quietly slipped away will the memory of the bareback riders, gorgeous in tinsel, side-splitting in their bizarre costumes and the wonderful horses, ponies and dogs, together with all the rest of the amazing things, which endear circuses to hearts of all whether in the bosom of youngsters of twelve or youngsters of fifty.

The one great disappointment for young and old alike was the inability of circus management to give their street parade. The show grounds were so far from the unloading place and they were so unhandy to reach that although the managers worked like Turks they were unable to get things together in time for the street parade and get back to the grounds in time for the afternoon performance so that the parade had to be cancelled. There was one of the biggest crowds in the city that has been here in many a day and the street cars, although working over time with many extra cars on the line, were unable to handle the great crowds.

The evening performance will start at eight o'clock, doors open at seven.

LEWIS COUNTY FARMER DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Mr. Samuel L. Lyons, aged 83, one of the best known farmers in Lewis county, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Maggie Toncray, near Tolesboro this morning at an early hour, very suddenly. Mr. Lyons was in his usual good health Monday and was about over Tolesboro talking to his many friends. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. John Farrow, of Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. Maggie Toncray, of Tolesboro and Miss Martha Lyons, of Tolesboro and one brother, Mr. Jackson Lyons, of Cincinnati.

DUMP AGAIN BURNING

Although the Bridge street dump's flames were extinguished on Saturday, they burst forth again Tuesday morning and the same old odor gave the citizens much discomfort during the day. Water will be again put on the dump and the city officials hope to at least extinguish the flames as they make their appearance on the surface.

LAWWILL-DEVAUGHN

Thomas Devaughn, aged 24, of Springdale and Miss Josie Elsie Lawwill, aged 18, of Ripley, Ohio, were married here today by Rev. A. P. Stahl, of the Christian Church.

Traffic was handled well in the city but around the circus grounds there was much congestion. It is to be hoped that this will be the last time the County Infirmary grounds will have to be used as circus grounds.

WATER SITUATION BEFORE COUNCIL MONDAY NIGHT

Most Important Matter For Discussion of City Fathers on Next Monday Evening Will Be the Much Mooted Water Question.

The Maysville water situation in all of its phases will come before the City Council at their regular September meeting on next Monday evening. Every angle of the situation will come up for a general discussion and lengthy reports on recent investigations will also be read to the councilmen.

The report of Captain Harrah, government engineer who has spent several weeks in going over the situation, will be read to council and it is understood that City Engineer W. L. Glazier will also have his report ready to be presented to the councilmen. Mr. Glazier has made a very careful investigation into the value of the present water system and the probable cost of a new system such as Maysville needs and these facts and figures to be made known through his report will be quite interesting to the public in general.

Nothing else will likely occupy the attention of the councilmen during the September meeting except regular routine business.

HUNDREDS SEE CIRCUS' UNLOAD

One of the biggest features in a circus coming to town is to see the show unload and there was a great gathering at the railroad tracks Tuesday morning early awaiting the arrival of John Robinson's big shows to witness their unloading. Hundreds waited to see the horses and elephants removed the great circus wagons from the freight cars and it was a sight worth seeing too.

BLOODHOUNDS TRAIL ROBBER WHO BROKE INTO COUNTY STORE

Seventeen Dollars Or More in Money Was Taken From the Campbell Store in Orangeburg Early Monday Evening — Manchester Bloodhounds Make Good Run.

Shortly after dark Monday evening Mrs. David Campbell, wife of the well known Orangeburg merchant, went into her husband's store, which adjoins her residence to get some supplies for breakfast Tuesday. When she entered the store and struck a match, she noticed that one of the lamps had been moved from its accustomed place but going to the location of another, she lighted it and immediately heard a noise in the back of the store. When she looked up a man came running from the rear of the store and jumped through the screen door at the side of the building into the yard.

Mrs. Campbell sounded an alarm and the police at Maysville were notified. They immediately conferred with Mr. Campbell and ordered the Manchester blood hounds brought to the scene at once.

Just as soon as the dogs arrived at the store they picked up the trail where the man was seen to jump from the building. They followed the trail out the Mt. Carmel pike some several miles and into the yard of a home but there the trail was lost and the officers were unable to make any arrests.

After making a careful investigation Mr. Campbell said that he missed nothing but about seventeen dollars in money from the cash drawer. The thief left the building so quickly that he could carry nothing from the stock of goods with him.

It is understood that the officers have a certain young man in that section of the county under suspicion and an arrest may be expected at most any time.

Officer William Tolle, who was assigned to go to the scene to help unravel the case, says that the Manchester blood hounds "deserve much credit for the way in which they worked."

Edna Erle Ashly formerly of Gager's of Chicago, has arrived in Maysville to take charge of the new Day Light Millinery Department of Mc.2 Bros.

The Public Ledger force thanks Mr. Fred Cablish, the Third street grocer, our neighbor, for a fine watermelon feast this afternoon.

FARMERS DISCRIMINATED AGAINST

If President Wilson ever did anything to encourage the "back-to-the-land" movement, we should like to know what it was. He arbitrarily construed the guaranteed price of wheat to be a fixed, maximum price, and then permitted the establishment of regulations which deprived most farmers of even the guaranteed price. Through his Director of Railroads and his supervisors of war contracts he boosted wages in cities and on railroads to such an extent that farmers were unable to get help. He insisted upon continuance of the daylight-saving law which gives city residents an hour more for pleasure in the evening but deprives farmers of an hour of working time in the morning—dew on the grain preventing work in the early morning. Exemption regulations were construed more liberally in behalf of city industries than for the farmers, with the result that farm help was drawn upon in undue proportion at the same time that farmers were expected to produce increased quantities of food. In the Post Office Department it was the rural service that came in for earliest and most continuous destruction. In the Department of Agriculture, efforts to ascertain and publish facts regarding cost of production of farm crops and farm animals were discouraged and suppressed. In the tariff bill which he helped frame back in 1913, the President kept in mind the consumer and not the producer. Hence we had tariff duties which encouraged importation of grain from Argentina, wool from Australia, potatoes and wheat from Canada, cattle and hides from Mexico and South America, lemons from Italy, and various food products from other countries.

At the present moment we can think of only one notable instance of the Wilson administration doing anything for the farmer—city experts were sent out over the country to teach the farmers' wives how to make cottage cheese.

GOVERNMENT PROFITEERING?

We have all been mood to feelings of profound gratitude to the government for rushing into the market at this time with tremendous accumulations of government stores of foodstuffs with which to relieve the shortage of provisions of every variety.

Just to what extent the housewives of the land have profited by this exhibition of national generosity and enterprise is yet to be reported. A glance over the published price lists indicated that in some lines there was a saving to be made if one could purchase in the quantities fixed.

In a few instances, however, it is charged, the government took a hand at both hoarding and profiteering. Seventy thousand cans of pineapple, taken over by the war department under special authority at a basis of $4.50 a case, was sold recently at $10.80 per case. Similarly, a lot of 3,000,000 pounds of prunes commandeered by the government at 9½ cents a pound, was sold at 22 cents a pound.

If the facts are true as reported, neither the public nor the producers in these cases enjoyed high favor at the hands of the government at Washington.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

The American Red Cross has passed through the heaviest requirements in its history with colors flying and smothered under the praises of soldier and civilian alike.

It was no small task that faced this organization at the very beginning of the war. Even before the United States joined forces with the Allies, there was much work to be accomplished. Thousands upon thousands of soldiers were inadequately cared for in dressing stations and first aid camps until the American Red Cross sent a body of its workers to Europe and followed with hundreds of boxes of supplies, equipment and clothing for the outcasts in Belgium and France.

From the North Sea to the boundary of Switzerland; from the wilderness of Siberia to the blood-stained fields of Flanders and Picardy, the American Red Cross was a dominant factor, saving human wrecks.

Those who worked under its spotless emblem labored day and night. Some died, others were mangled bringing succor and help to the injured on many battlefields. The American Red Cross proved itself worthy of all good things that had been and have been said of it.

SILK INDUSTRY JEOPARDIZED

A Chinese-American silk company has been organized with a capital of $1,000,000, headquarters to be in Seattle, Washington, for the purpose of importing Chinese silk piece goods from Canton and the island of Honam adjacent. And this firm will pay the cut rate duties of the Democratic tariff law on these imports just as long as the Democratic party controls the Administration.

SAME OLD CROWD OF ROTATORS

Democratic State Office-Holders
In Kentucky Trying To Hold On

POLITICIANS IN CONTROL

However, the Thinking People of the State, Democrats as Well as Republicans, Know Their Record of Mismanagement.

It is an old saying that "The rose by any other name would smell as sweet." By the same token it can be said that the same old disrag if called by any other name would smell as sour.

The same old crowd of Democratic politicians who have been running Kentucky more and more into debt as the years have gone by are again asking the people for their votes.

As a result, the ticket is not only nauseating to the Republicans, but to those fair-minded and thinking Democrats who have honestly and courageously tried against big odds to nominate men for the offices who would put state above self.

First on this ticket is Governor James D. Black, of Barbourville. Governor Black was Assistant Attorney General for the state when James Garfield was Attorney General during the McKinley administration. It was during Black's term of office as Assistant Attorney General that he wrote the famous letter asking the L. & N. Railroad for a pass for one of his friends, and one of the recommendations of the L. & N. official who recommended the pass was that Black was a state officer. James Garfield, who was then Black's boss, is now a member of the law firm of Garnett, Gordon & Huffaker, of Louisville. Governor Stanley made a contract with Garnett, Gordon & Huffaker to turn over to them enormous fees in the Bingham will case, which should go into the pockets of the taxpayers of the state. Appended to time after time to cancel that infamous contract, Governor Black says he can't do it (although the Court of Appeals has held that it can be done).

Then there is Mat Cohen, of Lexington, candidate for Secretary of State, a notorious rotator in office. Elected Commissioner of Agriculture four years ago, he has made a record for the reckless expenditure of money unequalled in the history of that office and likes the going so good he is back again for more.

The Democratic candidate for State Treasurer is Henry Turner, of Wickliffe. Turner was appointed by Governor Stanley State Examiner and Inspector, and is loath to tear himself away from the public expense account, so he also has joined the "rotators." Besides, he is one of the main cogs in the Stanley machine in Western Kentucky.

Henry Bosworth, also of Lexington, is one of the best "rotators" in the rotating business. Bosworth was State Treasurer in the Beckham administration. Inflicted with the rotating bug, he was a candidate for State Auditor on the Hager ticket and went down to defeat when Wilson and the Republican state ticket was victorious. But that only whetted his appetite the more, and he was again a candidate for Auditor on the McCreary ticket and went in with the rest and served four years. As the law in Kentucky will not permit a man to occupy the same office two terms in succession, he was forced to give the taxpayers a rest, but is again on hand at the close of his vacation, eager to get his name on the state pay roll.

Another of the rotators whose appetite for public office never seems to have any end is John W. Newman, of Versailles, Democratic candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture. Newman was Commissioner of Agriculture under Governor McCreary and by law was prevented from getting the office a second term in succession. But his friend, Mat Cohen, had such a fine time in that office on the state's money that Newman couldn't resist the temptation to get back on the pay roll and is again a candidate for the place.

As a fitting climax to this rotation affliction, Tom Rhea has been selected to manage the Democratic campaign. Rhea is one of the oldest and most notorious politicians in the state: He was State Treasurer during the McCreary administration, and during the past four years has been very active in lining up something else. An important cog in the Stanley machine, Rhea was chosen to manage the Stanley campaign last fall.

Among the leaders associated with Tom Rhea in managing the campaign are Robert L. Green, present Auditor, who, it is rumored, is to be on the State Tax Commission in case Rhea is successful. Another is Tom Pannell, State Fire Marshal, and head of the great, little fire-putters-out, and another is Tom Hatcher, a member of the State Board of Prison Commissioners, who is said to be slated for a fine appointment.

There is every reason to believe that hundreds and hundreds of Democrats in Kentucky who are sick and tired of this bunch of rotators, who never seem to get enough of the taxpayers' money, will join the Republicans at the polls on November 4 to help "clean house at Frankfort."

But even yet the transatlantic steamship lines do not seem to be worrying much about aerial competition.

SOLDIERS TRIED TO SELL STOLEN GOODS, CHARGED

Louisville, Ky.—As the result of a daring attempt to sell stolen army shirts and underwear valued at approximately $275, four privates from the Second Field Artillery are in the guardhouse at Camp Zachary Taylor awaiting trial by courtmartial. It is alleged that one of the quartet went to Goldberger's pawnshop, 214 South Preston street, to arrange for the sale of shirts and underwear which the soldier promised to bring in a wagon. The proprietor of the shop became suspicious and notified the city police. While detectives were watching an army wagon pulled by two army mules drew up before the shop, and our soldiers got out and commenced to unload a lot of army shirts and underwear.

HEADS STATE ASSOCIATION

Ashland, Ky.—M. T. McDowney, Winchester, heads the State Sunday School Association of Kentucky. He was chosen at the closing sessions of the fifty-fourth convention here. Other officers elected are: Vice president, Leo Burk, Owensboro; treasurer, Clarence Watkins, Louisville; executive committee, A. C. Hunter, Versailles; the Rev. C. F. Krater, the Rev. Henry H. Sweete, Thomas R. Gordon, M. S. Barker, Huston Quin, all of Louisville, and George B. Minary, of Versailles; J. W. Henderson, Ashland; W. P. Hall, Louisville; George C. Lowry, Hopkinsville. Miss Nannie Lee Frayer, Louisville, was selected as the delegate to the world's Sunday-school convention to be held in Tokio in 1920. Next year's sessions will be held in Louisville.

LONG AUTO JOURNEY

Stamford, Ky.—Silas Messer is back from Asheville, N. C., where he took his wife, who will remain there several months. He made the round-trip in his touring car and had no trouble whatever, although the roads in some places were bad. He had neither blowouts nor punctures.

VALUABLE DOG GROUND INTO SAUSAGE MEAT

Harrodsburg, Ky.—Frank Steele's fox terrier, for which he said he wouldn't have taken a hundred dollars, came to a tragic end. It climbed up on the fan of a threshing machine to take a nap. When the machine started the dog was ground into sausage meat.

Helps Sick Women

Cardui, the woman's tonic, helped Mrs. William Eversole, of Hazel Patch, Ky. Read what she writes: "I had a general breaking-down of my health. I was in bed for weeks, unable to get up. I had such a weakness and dizziness, and the pains were very severe. A friend told me I had tried everything else, why not Cardui?... I did, and soon saw it was helping me... After 12 bottles, I am strong and well."

TAKE

The Woman's Tonic

Do you feel weak, dizzy, worn-out? Is your lack of good health caused from any of the complaints so common to women? Then why not give Cardui a trial? It should surely do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women who suffered—it should help you back to health.

Ask some lady friend who has taken Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Try Cardui.

PLAN TO REPEAT ATTACK OF 1916

Railway Employees' Chiefs Appear at Washington With New Threat to Congress.

ASK $1,000,000,000 MORE PAY

Also Demand Nationalization of Other Industries, Following Example of Russian Soviets.

Washington.—It is just three years since the four leaders of the railway brotherhoods, having refused arbitration of their demands, sat in the gallery of the United States Senate and held their watches on the Senators while the memorable vote was being taken on the Adamson Law that gave them $60,000,000 additional wages a year. When this vote was counted and announced the four labor chiefs rushed out to the telephone office and withdrew the order for a nation-wide strike.

That such a scene may be again enacted on a much greater scale is indicated by the startling developments at the nation's capital in the past few days. Now the 350,000 men in the brotherhoods have been joined by more than a million other railroad workers—shopmen, trackmen, telegraphers, clerks, station agents—and the demands are many times what they were three years ago.

A Thousand Million Dollars. On top of a thousand million dollars of added wages granted by the Government in the past year and a half, the allied workers are asking for another increase of a thousand million dollars.

But more than this, this great body of railroad employees has served an ultimatum on the Government that all the railroads of the country must be taken away from their owners and turned over to the employees to be operated by them on a communistic profit-sharing plan.

The plan is as daring as any conceived by the Russian Bolsheviks, and behind it is the threat of a nation-wide strike, with the leaders of the men sitting in the Senate gallery, watches in hand, counting the vote.

To Tie Up All Transportation. "We will tie up the railroads so that they will never run again if we do not get what we want," announced one of the labor spokesmen, standing within a stone's throw of the Capitol, and this amazing announcement, like an ultimatum from a leader of the Russian Soviet, was instantly flashed over the telephone wires to every part of the country.

Since the first Brotherhood bombshell exploded in Washington at the end of July, the fact has leaked out that the brotherhoods are gathering a propaganda fund of $10,000,000 for an intensive drive on Congress. Three million dollars, it is announced, has already been collected from the members of the unions. This will be used in campaign work in the Congressional districts, with the purpose of enlisting the votes of the members of Congress, or of defeating them for re-election if they do not vote as the brotherhoods dictate. Money will also be lavishly spent, it is stated, in sending speakers throughout the country to stir up the enthusiasm of organized labor for the Brotherhood plan of communistic railroad operation.

"Nationalizing" All Industry. "If we don't get what we want out of this Congress we will put this Congress out and put another one in that will give us what we want," is the matter-of-fact announcement of the central propaganda office of the brotherhoods in Washington.

Back of the immediate purpose to gain control of the railroads is an even deeper scheme to gain control of all great industries, taking them from their owners and putting them under the direct management of the organized workers, as has been done in Russia, and as they are attempting to do in Germany and Austria.

The reports of the United States Railroad administration show that the Government, since it took over the roads in December, 1917, has increased railroad wages by considerably more than a thousand million dollars, and about $500,000,000 a year is being taken out of the National Treasury to meet the deficit caused by the great increase in labor cost.

Rig Wage Increases. The principal advances in wages have been: To shopmen, $300,000,000; to unskilled labor, $225,000,000; to the train brotherhoods, $200,000,000; to clerks, $125,000,000; to telegraph and station agents, $100,000,000; to miscellaneous classes, $110,000,000.

All of these groups are now demanding additional increases of from 30 to 50 per cent. When the Government took control of the roads the average earnings of all railroad workers, including several hundred thousand unskilled workers, was $1,000 a year. The average is now more than $1,500 and the new demands would raise it to $2,000.

Communities grow as they appeal to the young men and women. When the red-blooded sons and daughters of the present generation grow to manhood and womanhood their decision to stick to the home town or to leave it means the difference between a going and a growing town, and a dead and decaying one.

SUFFRAGE PLAN OF WORK OF FEDERATED CLUBS OF KENTUCKY.

Whereas, The conditions of war have revealed the problems of peace, and whereas, these problems demand for their solution the same concentration of public spirit on the part of individual women and the same hearty co-operation among groups of women the same high patriotism in fact, as was displayed by our women during the war, be it resolved, that we, the resolutions committee with these purposes in view, offer the following recommendations:

Whereas, The Federal Amendment for woman suffrage has been passed by the Congress of the United States and whereas, the 1920 session of the Kentucky Legislature will have the opportunity of ratifying this amendment, we recommend to the Federated Clubs and to the individual members that they at once take steps to place all candidates for the Legislature before the August primaries if possible to the ratification of the Federal Amendment and to the passage of all other legislation securing the political rights of women.

We further recommend that the Political Science Committee of the Federation work in close co-operation with the Kentucky Equal Rights Association in securing the proposed legislation, and that, since the time is now so short until the women of Kentucky will be full citizens, we recommend that the clubs of the Federation take up actively the work of preparing women to use conscientiously and intelligently their new political rights.

FAMOUS FIRST DIVISION COMING HOME ON SEPTEMBER 1st

Original American Expeditionary Forces of Which "Jimmie" Brown Maysville Man, Was Member, Is Coming Home.

Washington, August 25. — The 1st Division of regulars, the first American combat unit to arrive in France following the entrance of this country into the European War, will arrive in New York the middle of September, probably during the same week of General Pershing's own landing at that port. This famous division, which fought with such gallantry in all of the major operations in which the Americans took part, will parade in New York City and General Pershing probably will be one of the reviewing officers.

General Pershing cabled the War Department Wednesday that he intends to sail from Brest on the transport Mount Vernon, which sails for New York September 1.

The 1st Division, totaling about 28,000 officers and enlisted men, began moving to embarkation ports in France last Friday and the first of the combat units are expected to arrive in New York the latter part of next week. As the units arrive they will proceed to Camp Mills and Merritt where they will remain until the day of the parade. After the parade in New York the division will be transferred to Camp Meade and on or about September 27 will parade in this city with President Wilson as the chief reviewing officer. This division returns under the commands of Major Gen. E. F. McClablin. The division will return with all its battle equipment, including artillery.

This division, composed of troops of the U. S. Regular Army, is justly proud of its claim as being "first division in France, first in sector, first to fire a shot at the Germans, first to attack, first to conduct a raid, first to be raided, first to capture prisoners, first to inflict casualties, first to suffer casualties, first to be cited singly in general orders, first in the number of division, corps and army commanders and general staff officers produced from its personnel."

It was composed of the 16th, 18th, 26th and 28th Infantry Regiments, the 5th, 6th and 7th Artillery Regiments, the 1st Engineer Regiment and train, the 2d Field Signal Battalion, and the 3d, 4th and 5th Ambulance Companies and Field Hospital.

The 1st Division was 220 days in the front line. It captured 163 officers and 6,304 enlisted men of the German Army. In material it captured 119 pieces of field artillery, sixty-two trench mortars, and 413 machine guns. Its casualties totaled 21,612 men, of whom 4,411 were killed or died of wounds. The replacements sent to the division totaled 30,206 officers and men. The soldiers of the division won 366 Distinguished Service Crosses.

WATERMELON GUARD ATTACKED; DOGS ON TRAIL

Danville, Ky.—John Dickson, sixty years of age, was attacked by a Negro while guarding the watermelon patch of Robert House on the Bluegrass pike. The Negro entered the tent, and without saying a word, grabbed Dickson, who was stretched out on a cot inside. The Negro was about the same height as Dickson, although much younger. The scuffle lasted a few minutes around the tent when the guard cried for Mr. House to come and bring his gun. At this outcry the Negro struck Dickson two blows on the head with a rock that he carried in his hand and made a hasty retreat from the tent. Mr. Herron was called from Hustonville and brought over his string of bloodhounds, who tracked the assailant to a cabin nearby. The Negro could not be found. Several severe scalp wounds were inflicted upon Dickson.

MASON COUNTY TEACHERS WILL FORM ASSOCIATION

Organization of Mason County School Teachers to be perfected before the Present Session of the County Institute Closes.

It was learned today that a movement is on foot to organize a Teachers' Federation in Mason county and this Federation will probably be perfected before the close of the present session of the Mason County Teachers' Institute.

Most every class of people has organized over the nation except the farmers and the school teachers. The organization of a farmers' bureau was started in Mason county on last Saturday and now the announcement comes that the Mason County Teachers will also organize.

The purpose of the Teachers' Federation will be to be more helpful to one another and through the Federation all the teachers of the county can be reached and their co-operation and assistance is every good movement can be secured.

It is learned in talking to the various teachers attending the Institute here this week that practically every teacher in Mason county is strongly in favor of such an organization and when the organization is perfected this week, it will probably have every school teacher in the county as a charter member.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION OF COUNTY TEACHERS INSTITUTE

County School Teachers Hear Several Very Interesting Addresses at Today's Meeting.

(By R. Y. Maxey)

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. C. Stephenson, Rector Episcopal Church, who in a few well chosen remarks struck a most vital point in the control and proper development of children. The worker with children should, the speaker said, keep in touch with her own childhood, that it is a difficult matter to meet childhood on its own ground, grown-ups should keep a strong grip on their patience in dealing with children.

Instructor Ireland discussed the subject of reading, dwelling quite extensively upon the facts that successful teaching of reading comes from within rather than from outside influences and forces, that the child reads as the teacher reads. The child's interest in reading reflects the teacher's interest in the subject that the teacher should do more work for the pupil in reading than in any other class work in the schools, that we read for pleasure, for information, for profit, for inspiration, to give information and inspiration to others, that there are few children's books. The successful teacher is the one that puts herself on the child level.

Supt. Ireland's discussion was followed by Prof. T. J. Currey in a most ardent appeal for action in the work on the part of teachers. He maintained that the Germantown Fair and Robinson's Circus got interest through the medium of advertisement, showing what they have for the people that all features of either enterprise has its due representation. Hence everybody in the various communities is interested and therefore attend. But the Institute very few were interested. Only a very small part of the membership of the Institute is men, therefore Institutes and public schools were not getting sufficient advertisement and representation. In the course of his talk Mr. Currey suggested that the committee offer a resolution asking the support of woman suffrage since it is almost wholly. They who are engaged in the building of citizenship of the nation.

The question how are teachers to get representation evoked a spirited tilt between Miss Alice Lloyd and Supt. Turnipseed when the former contended that the Institute should adopt a resolution endorsing for representative a candidate who will vote in the General Assembly for Woman Suffrage. Mr. Turnipseed was as emphatic in his stand that the Institute should adopt no such resolution and should steer clear of politics at this time.

Miss Lloyd asked if there was any difference between politics and human justice. To this question Mrs. Charles P. Weaver of Louisville, quickly replied there was a decided difference. Mrs. Charles P. Weaver of Louisville, representative of Kentucky Children's Home Society, made a most forceful appeal for cooperation in the campaign for funds to found a new and adequate home for destitute children of Kentucky.

The time between recess and noon was given to discussion of the teaching of language. All participants showed that vitalization of the subject was the secret to successful handling of this usually difficult, dry and poorly taught study.

In his talk on Grammar Mr. Ireland said that formal or technical grammar should be omitted from the course until the Eighth Grade is reached, that language and composition should be the work of grades, one to seven inclusive.

The session closed with a lively discussion on the qualifications of the teacher.

Mr. Ireland is making a most favorable impression as an instructor, and so is holding the interest of the teachers.

Afternoon Session

Miss Alice Lloyd made some optimistic and hopeful statements as to the solicitation and collection of funds for the Illiteracy Campaign.

Prof. T. J. Currey in a most unique manner allowed the subject of telling to tell its own story of development, whence it came and whither it goes. Prof. Currey emphasized giving attention to detail from entrance into the primary grade on through the high school. Foundation work of all studies is spelling.

Miss Virginia Hurd, teacher First Grade of the First District School of this city, gave a most helpful talk on the subject, The Story Hour and Dramatization in Primary Reading.

Miss Hurd had present children by whose assistance she gave an object lesson in dramatization in reading. Miss Hurd deserves most favorable commendation. She is as good as the writer has ever seen and he has seen them in those that are reputed to be the best in our state.

POSTMASTERS OF THE STATE URGE NEED OF THRIFT

Kentucky Mail Men in 2-Day Session Plan to Renew Stamp Sale Effort.

Election of officers for the ensuing year will be the principal business before the Kentucky State League of the National League of Postmasters of the United States at its final session at the Hotel Henry Watterson today. The annual convention opened yesterday afternoon.

George W. Britt, assistant in the postmaster's office in St. Louis, delivered the main address yesterday, taking the place of Postmaster Colin M. Selph. He is in Washington to appear before a Congressional Postoffice Committee in behalf of bills introduced to increase the pay of all postal employees 35 per cent. Mr. Britt told the postmasters. Such increase would take effect immediately, and be retroactive to July 1. All postal employees from fourth to first class offices will profit.

"Many people bought War Savings Stamps during the war to help defray the expenses of the war, but they must be taught now to buy War Savings Stamps and $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificates to help defray their own expenses when that unwelcome rainy day comes," said Mr. Britt. "We are hired by the United States Government to sell the goods which it offers. Every letter carrier and every clerk should constantly preach this doctrine to the public."

SHOPMEN EXPECTED TO GIVE UP FIGHT

President Wilson Is Confident That Railroad Men Will Accept Appeals.

Washington, August 26.—President Wilson is confident that the railroad shopmen will accept his and Director General Hine's appeals for a truce in their wage demands, according to word from men close to the President today.

The first indication of what course the shopmen would pursue was expected to come today in an announcement from their representatives here, who concluded in conference with acting President Jewell of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor.

Announcing that the men would be granted an increase of four cents an hour, President Wilson said in an accompanying statement that to meet their demand for an increase of 17 cents an hour from the present basic pay of 68 cents, or 25 per cent, would necessitate higher freight rates, which would add to the already high cost of living, and thus defeat the Government's efforts to solve the most important question before the country today: A return to normal price levels.

"We are face to face with a situation," said the President, "which is more likely to affect the happiness and prosperity and even the life of our people than the war itself."
